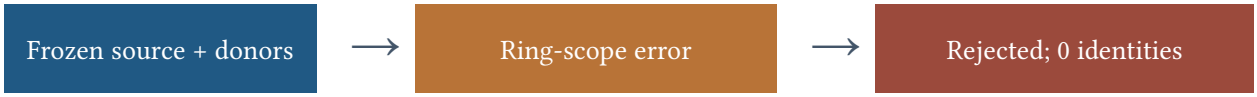
R83: direct fraction verifier rejected

The frozen attempt passed its source/donor gate, but Singular could not access the source module after switching rings. It printed a terminal marker despite native errors, so the strict gate rejected the run. Zero valid fraction identities were checked.



The strict native-error gate rejected the attempt. No mathematical result was emitted.

The correction serializes source module polynomials as strings before switching rings; it will run under a fresh frozen protocol.