BenchLock v2: additive source review

Private owner-release method replaces explicit Drop call

Actual Drop and child control share the reviewed method

Exact extraction and both producer manifests verified

Six controls remain uncompiled and unexecuted

Next: pinned compile → executable hash → bounded controls

Excluded: full child field destruction, wait=true, error injection

Original GPU failure cause remains unproved